China-Europe 5G Base Station Communication

Overview

How many 5G base stations are there in China?

In data collected between July 2022 and June 2024, China was reported to have had around 3.5 million 5G base stations installed across the country, with Chinese mobile operators investing heavily in 5G infrastructure. By comparison, the European Union had around 460,000 thousand base stations, while the United States had approximately 175,000.

What is Europe's approach to 5G?

Europe's approach to 5G has been more balanced. By 2023, the continent had around 500,000 active base stations, with countries like Germany, the UK, and France leading the way. Unlike China and the U.S., Europe has emphasized widespread but steady deployment, focusing on balancing urban and rural connectivity.

Does China have a 5G network?

The most high-profile Chinese presence is in Europe's 5G mobile networks. Huawei and ZTE—China's leading telecom equipment vendors—have been major suppliers of the antennas, base stations, and switches that power wireless networks across Europe.

Are Chinese telecom giants a threat to Europe's 5G networks?

As Chinese telecom giants weave themselves into Europe's 5G networks, undersea cables, and smart infrastructure, they bring not only speed and savings—but strategic risk.

How does Europe compare with other countries in 5G development?

On a range of technical and other criteria, Europe compares well with other leading countries and economies in 5G development, such as the USA, China, Japan, the Republic of Korea, Singapore and Taiwan.

When will 5G be available in China?

The latter bands are commonly being seen as leading frequencies for 5G, in the EU and elsewhere. Moreover, each MNO in China has a different date for its prospective commercial launch, with 2019 for China Mobile, but sometime in 2020 for China Unicom and China Telecom.
