Barbados has launched the second phase of its Battery Energy Storage System (BESS) procurement process, a critical step in tackling ongoing grid congestion that has stalled the growth of the renewable energy sector. The tender process will open the door for developers to bid for up to 60 megawatts.

The Government of Barbados has officially launched a major procurement process for the country’s first large-scale Battery Energy Storage Systems (BESS), aimed at transforming the national electricity grid and unlocking delayed renewable energy investments. The launch event, hosted by the Ministry.

The company's urgent need for increased battery energy storage systems (BESS) is driven by the rapid growth of distributed photovoltaic (DPV) systems, which are nearing the current grid's capacity. BL&P's attempt to proactively address this challenge with a request for 90 megawatts (MW) of BESS.

A renewable energy project worth as much as $400 million hangs in the balance as Barbados Light & Power Company (BLPC) and the Fair Trading Commission remain at odds over Battery Energy Storage Systems . Solar PV battery storage costs will depend on a few factors. These include the chemical.
