How does a dollar credit work for a net metered PV system?

Any excess generation from your net metered PV system will be multiplied by the prevailing total energy rate (base energy rate plus riders assessed on a per-kWh basis) for the same time period that the Excess Energy was generated, to determine a dollar credit.

Do I need a consumption meter to view my electricity bill?

Note: You will need to install consumption meters (CTs) for tracking of your energy usage data in the Enphase App, and compare it with the electricity bill. What does my electricity bill display?

When you have solar panels, it is natural to expect your electricity bill to reflect all the energy your system generates.

What is the Enphase Energy Bill guide?

This guide provides a clear understanding of your electricity bill, explains how to align it with the energy data from the Enphase App, and offers insights on optimizing energy usage to maximize savings.

How does a PV meter work?

This is the term for how your meter counts and tracks kilowatt hours (kWh) flowing from your home to the grid as well as from the grid to your home. When your PV system produces more kWh than your home is currently consuming, your meter is crediting your account bank by “spinning backward”.

Can I compare my electricity bill with the Enphase app?

It is natural to compare the numbers on your electricity bill with the data in the Enphase App. However, differences between the two are common due to the way each system records energy usage. If you want to compare your bill with your Enphase App, ensure you are looking at the same billing period.

What is Bill reminder app?

Bill reminder is a free app that notifies you according to your set time and date. It also has many features like calendars with different views, password protection, editable reminders etc which make it stand out from other apps in the list. It also provide custom alerts so that user can be aware about any change automatically.
